

Oct 9, 2013
Jacqueline Torres
Communication Studies
Event Coordinator
Associated Students Productions
Sonoma State University
Fax #: (707) 664-3360
Office #: (707) 664- 2753

Bill,

Thank you for the belly-queenching laughs your performance gave the students of Sonoma State University. Because Sonoma State is not highly diverse, we gained an absolute awe and respect for your Spanglish 101 show. It was amazing to see how even the students who were not of Hispanic descent were laughing hysterically and you could see the genuine enjoyment they felt to be there. For the Hispanic crowd, the topics you touched on and had insight on was all too well known. They were extremely excited they were understood and rest of the community could underlying learn their culture. While the show portion of your presentation almost had us in tears, your small presentation afterwards, hit the target. It was meticulously planned and truly emphasized the Hispanic heritage Associated Students Production wanted to project to the students.

Bill really gave the Hispanic community a voice that night and we cannot thank you enough for the great performance you brought to our campus, including the staff at Associated Students Productions. We would love to have you back and hope we can work with you again soon.

Sincerely,

The ASP staff Sonoma State University

